Ana the Beaner

Ana is the creator of our new, fun and playful line of headphones. She worked as secretary in a famous printmaking company and found herself lost in the sounds of the machines. Watching a print in the process the idea merged with the necessity and it was born. She left everything she had built so far -which wasn't much because she was only 16- and started her life in the right place all over again. She designed a different kind of headphones that didnt fall in the boring mold it was built at the time. Now she has an empire and beaners are seen walking and dancing to the beat of music all over the world
